

How to explain your research to anyone!

From job interviews to industry talks:
learn how to explain your science clearly and confidently

— For PhD students and postdocs —

TU Braunschweig

QVLS

- Explain your research confidently, e.g. in job interviews
- Earn a certificate for explaining science
- Test your new skills in brief video recordings
- Contribute to the future development of the course with your feedback
- Participate in an ongoing QuantumFrontiers research project

More information and registration (until 31st August) here:

Please note that some parts of the workshop will be given in German. The course material will be bilingual, and English-speakers are explicitly welcome!

